JURY INFORMATION SHEET - 2017

Introduction

As one of the premier craft shows in Troy, the Elf Shelf is known for its quality handmade crafts. To ensure the quality of the show and variety of crafts, all new crafters must have their items juried as indicated in the process below. Returning crafters generally do not have to jury unless bringing in a new item to the show. TWA reserves the right to request jury for a returner, as needed.

Jury Process

Jury will not occur until we receive your completed, signed application, along with booth payment. You can jury in person or electronically by mailing pictures that clearly show that your craft is handmade. Show a sample of all items that will be sold at the show and the build process. If you would like an in person jury date, please call the number above and ask to schedule a jury appointment. Someone from the show will return your call and set up a convenient date with you.

In Person Jury

All jury sessions generally take place at the Troy Community Center, 3179 Livernois Rd., East of the I-75 freeway and North of Big Beaver Rd. (16 Mile). A representative of the Troy Women's Association will provide a room assignment.
